[Translator's Notes: In order for people to be allowed to participate in the 1940 Resettlement movement out of Bessarabia and Bukovina, every man, woman and child had to have a number assigned to them upon registration. A person's number was usually attached to the outer garment so it would be visible to the authorities. Without the number, a person was not to be allowed to board any mode of transport taking re-settlers out of Bessarabia and Bukovina. The following is a list indicating how the numeration was to take place. Bessarabia and Bukovina were divided into regional districts. A portion of the total numbers was assigned to each District. Those numbers were then subdivided and assigned to the various gathering and departure points within that District and identified with a two-letter code plus a number following the code. Not all the Resettlement Numbers were used. The number distributed in each location is noted.]
